Topic Title

Description: The information in a snippet is visible in a PDF output even if it is set to be excluded if the snippet is put into the topic as a snippet text instead of a snippet block.

Testing Zone

Note: My project is non-disclosable, so if you need to see this behavior in an example, I will have to make a fake project to demonstrate. I'm willing to do that if necessary, but please don't ask me to do that unless you actually need me to. I can't just send over my project without significant work involved. :(

Steps: Make a snippet that has conditions within it.

Put that snippet in a topic as snippetText in part of a larger paragraph.

Make a PDF target with one of the conditions in the snippet set to exclude.

Generate the output for the target. The excluded text will still be visible.

This is not, as far as I can tell, a one-off thing that is happening. I'm finding text all through my output that shouldn't be there, and so far, every time I've found some, it has been conditional text that was set to exclude, and when I checked the topic, it was always part of a snippet that was in the topic as Text. So it's easy to fix, but this is not good behavior. Sometimes you want to put a snippet in the middle of a paragraph, and you still want the conditional text to work.
